Factors That Contribute to Vocabulary Growth

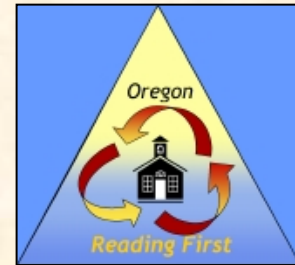

Students who read just under five minutes per week outside of school will read only 21,000 words in a year.

Students who read nearly 10 minutes per day will read 622,000 words a in year.

Students who read 15 minutes per day will read 1,146,000 words per year.

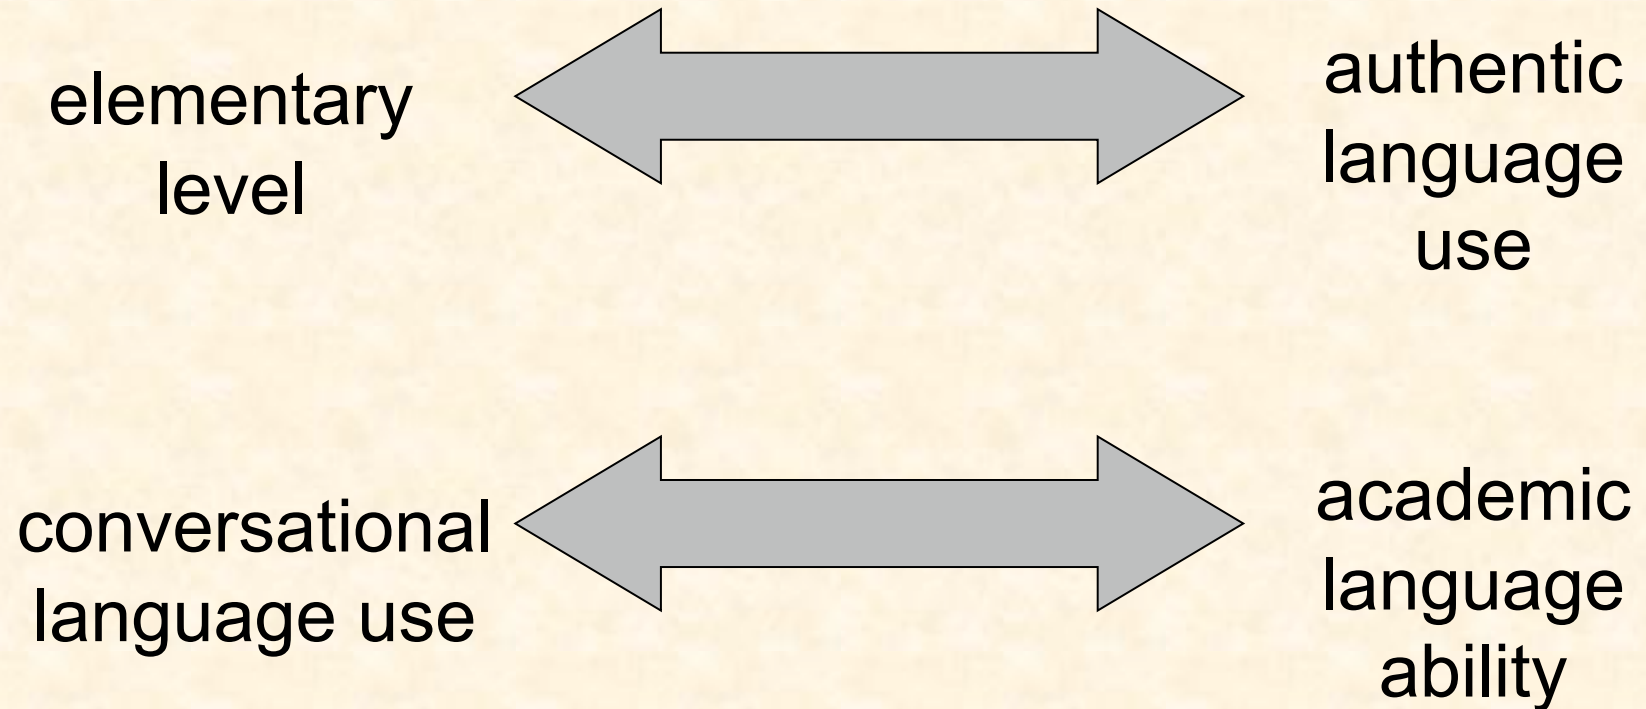

Students who read over an hour a day will read more than 4,358,000 words per year.

Wide Reading. . .

- ✚ may be the most powerful tool we have in language education
- ✚ is an effective way of increasing literacy and language development
- ✚ has a strong impact on reading comprehension, vocabulary, grammar and writing

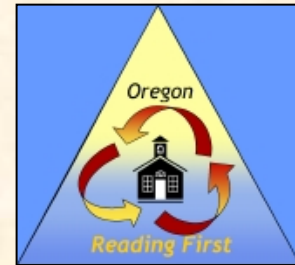

Wide reading helps make the transition from. . .

Free voluntary reading works because it is a form of comprehensible input delivered in a low-anxiety situation.

Processing New Words in Multiple Ways

Providing multiple ways for students to work with new words enhances their understanding of those words (McKeown et al., 1985; Stahl, 1991).

- Associate new words with known words.
- Use new words in a sentence.
- Match definitions to new words.
- Use new words in different contexts.
- Provide students with multiple exposures to new words.

Selecting the Right Words to Teach

- Identify the words students do not know.
- Identify the more important words.
- Identify the words students may not be able to figure out on their own.
- Identify words students will encounter frequently.
